

Center for Study of Public Choice

Virginia Political Economy Lecture Series

Has Economics Lost It's Way? by James Buchanan

Occasional Paper on Virginia Political Economy (Graduate Students) by Robert Tollison

Occasional Paper on Virginia Political Economy (Visitors) by Robert Tollison

The "Virginia School" and Public Choice by Dennis Mueller

Creating the "Virginia School": Charlottesville as an Academic Environment in the 1960's by William Breit

Getting More with Less, with a Notable Exception by Dwight R. Lee

Ethics in the History and Doctrine of the Virginia School by Leland Yeager

Winston Bush's Contribution to Public Choice: Anarchy, Politics, and Population by Robert J Mackay

The Tale of the Slave-Owner: Reflections on the Political Economy of Communist Reform by Geoffrey Brennan

Uncommon Common-Sense vs. Conventional Wisdom: the Virginia School of Economics by Charles Goetz

On the Political Economy of the Transformation of Political and Economic Regimes by Peter Bernholz

Why is Economic Performance Even Worse After Communism Is Abandoned by Mancur Olson

Virginia Virtue Virginia Vice by Hartmut Kliemt

The Public Choice Approach to International Economics Relations by Thomas D Willett

The Economics of Welfare Reform by Edgar K Browning

The Nature of Time in Economics by Richard B McKenzie

Will Johnny Read Next Year? By Eugenia F Toma

Economics and the Medieval Church by Robert D Tollison