

George Mason University
Conservation Studies Program
Front Royal, Virginia

NEW CONSTRUCTION

Mason is constructing a residential complex consisting of a dining hall and a dormitory to accommodate the aspirations of this dynamic living/learning environment in which conservation becomes a way of life.

Naming Opportunity for the “Complex” representing both buildings	$2,500,000
--	-------------

Naming Opportunities for the Dining Hall

Naming the Building	$500,000
---------------------	-----------

Naming the Main Dining Hall	250,000
-----------------------------	---------

Naming the large outside dining area	100,000
--------------------------------------	---------

Naming the small outside dining areas (2)	50,000
---	--------

Naming Opportunities for the Dormitory

Naming the Building	$1,000,000
---------------------	-------------

Naming the North Wing of the Building	500,000
---------------------------------------	---------

Naming the East Wing of the Building	500,000
--------------------------------------	---------

Naming the Lobby/Reception Area	250,000
---------------------------------	---------

Level One: Naming the Suite of 5 Offices	250,000
--	---------

Naming the Exercise Room	100,000
--------------------------	---------

Naming any of the 32 Double Rooms, each with private bath	50,000
---	--------

Level Two: Naming the Study Room	250,000
----------------------------------	---------

Naming the Meeting Rooms (2)	100,000
------------------------------	---------

Naming the Apartment for the Residential Life Director	100,000
--	---------

Naming any of the 32 Double Rooms, each with private bath	50,000
---	--------

Naming the Pathway and Gardens Connecting the Two Buildings	100,000
---	---------